UPDATE 15TH DECEMBER 2011

2012 – The Bridging Of Events And What It Means ?

Early this year whilst others were claiming 2011 would be the year of the great unwind and a collapse, we were talking about 2011 as being a bridging of events that would play out before a bigger financial calamity.

Here we are in December just weeks away from Christmas 2011 and it seems that the bridging of events we were referring to is still playing out. There are currency problems, bank worries, increasing unemployment, companies going bankrupt and major news of the European debt crisis getting worse.

So where is the recovery Obama promised back in 2009? Well, as you can see there hasn't been one, there never was and we are glad our readers are wide awake to what is really happening in the real world. Tomorrow if you lean over your neighbors fence and listen to their stories and what they have been through over the last few years, it is a lot different to what the media have been reporting and the promises being made by those at the top.

We have been talking about this for many years and giving examples to our readers to expose the truth and to warn them about the lies and misconceptions of the governments and media, and now you are starting to see clear evidence of this.

This was part of the “bridging of events” topic we were referring to back in our PREVIOUS NEWSLETTERS HERE

Watching these “bridging of events” play out was quite interesting as forecasters and we are taking this as another warning sign to help our clients and readers prepare for future times. There is no reason to panic, but the way things have been intensifying is a real wake up call to those who have not made preparations to set their financial house in order before a bigger financial calamity comes along. It is not a matter of if now, but when.

Every few weeks the pundits were predicting a financial collapse in 2011. It never came. Strange time lines and mathematical equations were used to come up with specific dates which were quite amusing, because that does not really help anyone. Do not get caught up in the hype and hysteria. Our main focus is to help you prepare and profit before that date comes. Not try to guess exact timelines, and dates when things roll over. There is still a window of opportunity you have here to prepare and even profit in the coming times no matter what you think. There are opportunities everywhere if you know where to look. But just realize that we are forecasting 2011 as the warm up to a financial crisis 2.0 coming soon around the world. It will shock many. Many families will not be ready when it comes so consider this to be a pre-warning. While some countries will do better than others, no country will escape what we see coming. Do not worry about timelines or dates just worry about what you are doing (right now) to prepare and profit from the bigger financial collapse we see coming very soon.

THE WORLD IS ON EDGE! ARE YOU READY!?

Right now we are forecasting the bridging of events seen in 2011 is a buildup or a lead in to one of the biggest and worse financial crashes we have seen for centuries. We are terming this event as the financial crisis 2.0, or part two of the financial crisis we saw back in 2008. Everyone remembers how bad 2008 was, many people have been hurt both financially and emotionally from the first crisis, and the second crisis we see coming is going to be a real kick in the guts, and wipe out many people already hurt. That is why it is important to prepare.

Right now should be a time to get your financial house in order. It might also be a good time to get your physical, emotional and spiritual house in order too. As we start to see a changes come hard and fast in the economy we will also see this have an effect on the way people act and behave. Going back in history and looking at previous economic collapses, society as a whole usually goes through rapid changes also.

A prime example of this is the “Occupy Wall Street” movements you have seen this year. Where protestors and members of the public set up camp on the front door of wall street protesting and standing up for their rights. Can you blame these people?. Banks using our money to bailout each other at our expense. To rob from the poor and fund the rich. Although these protestors are targeting the wrong people, we must give them credit and it is clear evidence of what we are talking about with a change in the minds of men. A social revolution that has only just started, and will increase in the coming years. We have been warning about this for a while now. Many people are waking up to the fact that greed and corporate theft goes much deeper than you have been led to believe. So deep, it is actually disturbing, but we will touch more on that later.

We are forecasting the revolution, or the revolution in people’s mind, those waking up has only just begun. The warning signs are there, and ironically this is a new social bridging event as we welcome in the New Year very soon.

Remember, the most important part of the financial world is its consumers. That means you and me, and everyone else out there. It is obvious without people, there would be NO economy. It is the main driving force. So many social changes coming are going to have a big impact on the economy in the next 12 months.

2012 – A HISTORICAL AND IMPORANT YEAR!

Current trends we are seeing right now, are hinting the importance of the year 2012. While other alternative media are suggesting the end of the world, and a cataclysmic event will come and wipe out the human race as we know it. This is utter hog wash and you will see that the so called end of the world date 21st December 2012 will be no different than your average day.

Most people seem to be missing the point of why 2012 is so big, and the events that have been leading up to 2012. The year 2012 will not be the end of the world as we know it. But we are forecasting there to be massive changes in the financial world, physical world, and also geographical world. We are on the cusp of some big transformations here even at the end of 2011, but once these massive transformations take place, there is no going back, and it will change our world forever

Do not buy into the fear, and end of the world stories that are blasted through the media outlets. They are nothing more than fictional characters who want their 5 minutes of fame. They may get it, but soon realize they were wasting their time and also yours.

More mentality unstable characters like the Harold Camping types will come forward and proclaim the end of the world and our human race. But you will see these dates and predictions pass yet again without any major glitches. Many FFT subscribers are worried and nervous about an "end of the world scenario" playing out, but our trends are not suggesting an event such as this will play out.

The financial world however is in for a massive shake up as we keep talking about the slow motion economic collapse that is currently playing out. And yes soon you will see things worsen down the track.

Two major trends we see going forward that will have a monumental impact on the economy is the government buying up more debt. To print more money and to use it to help bail out more countries in crisis. This will eventually have a dramatic impact on the economy as we have been talking about.

Current trends are also suggesting some sort of quantitative easing coming also (i.e. possible quantitative easing 3) and this will anger many people. Bailing out big companies and other failing countries with tax payer's money. This will likely cause even more anger and only strengthen groups such as the Occupy Wall Street movement to take further actions and voice their concerns. This will wake up more people sitting on the sidelines.

We are also forecasting massive currency problems coming to the US and many other countries in the next 12 to 24 months. It is likely to affect many investors and private fortunes and the warning signs are already there. The hangover of the 2008 credit crisis lingers and we will soon enter what we are terming a Financial Crisis 2.0. No dates will be given but just know this event will be horrific when it plays out, and will catch many people unaware. We are urging our subscribers to prepare as best they can.

The evidence right now is suggesting 2012 is going to be a wild year. And a year that many will never forget. We are warning our clients right now to BUCKLE UP and PREPARE!
